Armor trim tester

You can't perform that action right now. Try checking the Commands Troubleshooting and Help page if you're experiencing server errors. The Custom Armor Pattern Command Maker Tool is a visual tool to help select and create trim commands for armor, with enchantments, color name text, lore, and advanced attributes. This feature allows players to customize their armor in Minecraft, including leather armor that can be dyed any color using presets or custom options. The color description text can also be hidden using the display hide option. In Minecraft 1.20, new armor trims were added with pattern and material options. Resin was introduced in 1.21.4, but only available for use since then. There are 18 patterns to choose from for armor trims, each with a unique appearance and color based on the trim material option. Commands can be used to set specific patterns, such as `/give @a diamond_chestplate{trim={pattern:bolt,material:amethyst}}`. `Wayfinder; /give @a diamond_chestplate{trim={pattern:wayfinder,material:amethyst}}` `/give @a diamond_chestplate{Trim:{pattern:wayfinder,material:amethyst}}` `Wild; /give @a diamond_chestplate{trim={pattern:wild,material:amethyst}}` `/give @a diamond_chestplate{Trim:{pattern:wild,material:amethyst}}` There are 11 materials that set color. The material can be set using the Trim material NBT, with examples below for each material. Resin was added in 1.21.4 and is only compatible since then. We use Trim Color Commands to customize chestplate colors. Amethyst, Copper, Diamond, Emerald, Gold, Iron, Lapis, Netherite, Quartz, Redstone, and Resin are the available materials.
