Reumatoïde artritis

Korte omschrijving	Reumatoïde artritis betekent letterlijk: reumatische gewrichtsontsteking. Reumatoïde artritis is een chronische ziekte die zich kenmerkt door ontsteking en uiteindelijk beschadiging van meerdere gewrichten. Vooral de gewrichten van hand, pols en voorvoet zijn vaak aan beide zijden ontstoken en gezwollen.
Epidemiologie	Komt meer voor bij vrouwen, begint tussen de 30 en 40 jaar.
Oorzaak	De oorzaak van reumatoïde artritis (RA) is onbekend. Wel is duidelijk dat het afweersysteem (immuunsysteem) een belangrijke rol speelt. In de gewrichten van reumatoïde artritis patiënten treft men flinke hoeveelheden ontstekingscellen (o.a. T cellen) aan, zonder dat er een bacterie of ander micro-organisme aanwezig is die dit kan veroorzaken. Ook produceert het lichaam veel antistoffen en ontstekingsmediatoren. Het immuunsysteem van patiënten kan lichaamseigen weefsels niet goed onderscheiden van de lichaamsvreemde weefsels. Daarom noemt men reumatoïde artritis ook wel een auto-immuunziekte; de afweersactie is dan op lichaamseigen weefsels gericht, die daardoor beschadigd raken.

Diagnose	Aan de hand van verschillende dingen kan een arts de diagnose stellen, bijvoorbeeld: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Aan de hand van verschillende vragen en een lichaamsonderzoek. De arts kijkt en voelt of er ontstekingen zijn. • Bloedonderzoek: Bij een gewrichtsontsteking kunnen de BSE- en de CRP-waarden in het bloed stijgen. Hoe ernstiger de ontsteking, hoe hoger de BSE- en CRP-waarden. • Röntgenfoto: Op een röntgenfoto is te zien of een gewricht is beschadigd. Meestal is dit pas te zien in een later stadium van de ziekte. Maar bij agressieve vormen van reumatoïde artritis kan dit ook in het begin zichtbaar zijn.

Some patients respond to traditional therapies with DMARDs (mostly methotrexate) and avoid further damage, but in many cases biological drugs are required, such as anti-TNF/anti-interleukin, or even anti-CD20, that have played an undisputed role in this disease. Improving the relationship between this population and the local health care system as well as the implementation of multidisciplinary work should be priorities. The individuals' relationship with the local health care system was complex and limited in several aspects (e.g. access to health care, continuity of treatment, complexity of medical care pathway and lack of cultural competence). Introduction: Rheumatoid arthritis (RA) is a chronic disease which impacts patients' quality of life. The prevalence of RA in the qom population was 2.4% and represented an aggressive and disabling disease. El tratamiento precoz evita la progresi³Ån estructural. The study goal was to describe the experience of the indigenous qom community individual suffering from RA, along with their experience with the local health care system in the city of Rosario, Santa Fe, Argentina. Methods: Qualitative Study using techniques of participant observation and semi-structured interviews; following a guideline developed by a multidisciplinary research group comprising anthropologists, rheumatologists, nurses, and psychologists. Presencia de sinovitis persistente en las articulaciones. Results: A total of 33 interviews conducted in 29 individuals with RA. Algunos pacientes responden a los tratamientos tradicionales con FAME (generalmente metotrexato) evitando un da³Åo mayor, pero en otros muchos casos hay que recurrir a f³Årmas biol³Ågicas bien anti-TNF/antiinterleuquinas, anti-CD-20 incluso, que han constituido un avance indiscutible en esta enfermedad.Rheumatoid arthritis is a systemic inflammatory disease of immune etiopathogenesis.Presence of persistent synovitis in the joints. Pueden presentarse tamb³Ån manifestaciones extraarticulares como son la cut³Ånea, n³Ådulos reumatoides, pleuropulmonar, hemato³Ågica, etc.Se realiza ante la presencia de artritis junto con datos radiogr³Åficos y anal³Åticos como son el factor reumatoide (FR) positivo y/o anticuerpos anti- α - β citrulinados.La evoluci³Ån de la enfermedad sin tratamiento es mala. Early treatment prevents structural progression. A triangulation strategy was implemented for the analysis. Shuttle of the joints, and polyarticular clinical forms generally appear, with several patterns of clinical involvement and progress. CONCLUSION • ES: Ra is a disease that has a negative impact on the daily life of Qom living in Rosario. Published studies are mainly clinical and epidemiologic research, but also basic. Other extra-articular manifestations can develop, such as skin diseases, rheumatism or pleuropulmonary or hemolytic manifestations. It is conducted on the presence of arthritis in association with radiographic and analytical data, such as a positive rheumatism factor and / or anti-citrullinated antibodies peptide. The course of disease is bad if it is treated. The results showed a "normalization" of their symptoms and their limitations in the realization of daily tasks. tasks.
