Since iOS 14.5 is short of the setting and the WWDC 2021 is only a few weeks away, it seems to be a good time to think about what comes next for Apple's mobile systems.

Make some changes to the controls and the layout of the start screen of the iPad. Basically, users can place widgets anywhere on the iPad start screen, not only in the "Today" column. You can also replace all of your home apps with widgets. And you can also expect some changes on the lock screen. New symbol design Apple has changed the symbol designs of three less used apps: Apple Music Artists; App Store-Link; And Apple's developer programs. All three now look three-dimensional, shaped, and the symbol is surrounded by a thin diamond-shaped edge. These updated symbols can suggest a new design language for iOS, especially if the same design lexicography appears in MacOS Big Sur. The last large iOS UI design was created in 2009. Bloomberg recently claimed that the operating system will offer more granular messaging control. It can be a little smart, so your device may not let go of things. It will be heard if you have established your status in management, work, sleep or other categories. The automatic reply to messages can also apply to the messages. This means you'll be able to create automatic replies to messages sent to others when they contact you when you're working, sleeping, or engaging in other users' activities. Currently, iOS has a common auto-reply only when the user leaves. Automatic messages and statements should be useful for anyone trying to focus on work. The Management Center is similar to the Big Sur expecting the Management Center to be transformed making it more aligned with the Big Sur Management Center.

Apple vs. Facebook As Facebook continues to ruin WhatsApp's privacy, Apple may take steps to make iMessage a more effective service competitor. It would spread chat streams that act as social networks more than news. Much more information about personal data protection in apps in the "Advanced personal data protection" menu uses users who use apps to collect data about it.

Therefore, it is easier to identify the app trying to compromise transparency monitoring rules.

It should be congratulated as it makes it much easier to identify developers who don't want to respect customers by opaquely posting their privacy practices. It will also be useful for companies compiling the principles of approved applications. double biometrics? A slightly questionable explanation shows that iOS 15 will support double biometric authentication for future devices, offering both a contact and an ID. This allows users to require both verification methods at the same time and prefer one over the other, such as using Apple Pay with a mask. What devices will support? Currently, iOS 15 should leave the iPhone 6s, 6s Plus and the latest generation of iPhone SE. The software no longer supports the 5th generation of iPad Air 2 and iPad and iPad Mini. Once the operating system has been announced, you can check its status here. Business apps for business iPad devices? iPad reviewers could always use the argument that Apple offers its Pro app - the definitive Slice X, Logic Pro and Xcode - for iPad users on the iPad Pro as well. Can he change? This is probably the latest iPad Pro S M1 at the very least. Three applications were already localThey run on Macs with M1 processors, and while the architecture of the two platforms is slightly different and the memory requirements may limit what can be done with iPad apps, it's much more likely that both computers will run on the same processor.

Meanwhile, Adobe says it's working on its apps to run natively on M1 Apple computers, and its experience building Photoshop M1 for Macs shows what's possible with Apple Silicon. My opinion? One thing a professional device needs are professional apps, and the ability to create those apps on the iPad Pro has never been greater. Apple says Apple doesn't talk about the future of operating systems and won't until WWDC starts on June 7. But the company has said little about its strategy. Greg Joswiak, vice president of marketing, says that increasing the power of Apple devices opens up opportunities for programmers. "When we created the first iPad Pro, we didn't have Photoshop. There were no creative apps that you could use right away. But now there are too many to count. Because we created this opportunity, we created this performance, and by the way, we've sold pretty much, that's when it comes and goes. A good enough combination for programmers who say "I can use this". There are enough customers and enough performance here. I know how to use it. And we do the same for each generation. We're building more performance space for developers to understand how to use it. On this issue - and Apple We'll learn more about the API its programmers aim to drive innovation at WWDC Follow me on Twitter or join Appleholic's Bar & Grill and Apple discussions on Mewe . As a fan of this game, I do not recommend you to add and other new things, such as more new skins, faces, colors , head, skin event will not only be a lot of fun for everyone, but you will also have a lot of options. Invite your friends to the same room/arena for more Tgeethr fun. And add new latest maps. It will be more addictive and not boring... so please update next... Take it sir... I always play your game. While this space is being taken by mobile games, which generate more impressions on the go, the best .O games still have their place. ButThese quick and small mini games still offer an intense game of several players.

The best games. I am still a viral phenomenon of popularized twitch streams and their presence in the House of Cards episode. ".io" extension means an indicative territory of the UK, but since this extension used agar.io, one of the very popular early .Oio games for several players, since then it has become a popular choice and has given the name of this genre. And available, but capable of intense and sometimes inexorable games, the best .Oio games can be played using incomplete connection and old hardware. Given the huge .Oio number of games, it can be difficult to decide which one is worth checking, so we've created a list of the best .Oio games that make us come back to learn more. Best .Oio games you can play at Agar.io (agar.io) - agar.io grandfather, agar.io (opening on a new map), so the name. Players start small by running around the card and eating to become fat. Finally, you grow big enough to eat other players' cells, causing a deadly cat and mouse game, trying to lure other cells into the trap and avoiding larger rays of players that could eat you. The simple but exciting game made it a viral sensation as it was even shown in the House of Cards episode. (Figure Credit: Slither.io) Slitter.io (opens in a new tab), take inspiration from the classic snake game, sliding on the players on the map and consuming food crumbs to become size and points. The maneuver is the name of this game because players are thrown away when their snake's head collapses with the body of another snake, causing players to switch or wrap suddenly to imprison and remove the careless.3. Diep.io (Figure: Diep.io) Diep.io is another classic game in which players control tanks this time, destroy obstacles and hostile tanks to collect points and improve their machines. A relatively large upgrade system allows you to remember your tank according to your wishes, allowing you to build hell monsters, agile aggressors or strong snipers. Various game modes, from AllFor-All to Team Battles and others, provide Diep.IO good value to play and sufficient depth with a well-accessed browser game. Gats.io (photoGats.io) Gats.io (opens on a new map) from top to bottom because the players choose weapons and armor and then break down in a narrow barrier and labyrinth and carefully hunt each other. Each weapon has their own advantages and disadvantages, and players will have to balance their mobility and armor protection or relieve the lack. Gats.io, which is fast-packed and adequately accessible, offers you some diversity in the game by offering free, team matches and superior checkpoints. Brutal.io (Image Loan: Brutal.io) Brutal.io gives the name because the players make each other dust with a huge mortal ball that returns. Starting with a small mortar ball attached to your player, you judge the map to collect food, you gradually increase the size of the death that you can run with other players, using a little more of the rotation, planning and stupid luck, if the garbage does not take them, then the return can be simple, because the mouse button is pressed by press and hold the mouse button. Returns the death ball to the player's tail and straighten everything along the way. Gardic.io (Picture Loan: Gardic.io) Are you tired of killing other killing games? Gardic.io (opens on a new map) is much more comfortable because the players turn into a mascara style and draw the name of a player, but the rest of the word has to predict what the word is. It was processed by Gardic Harder. In addition to glass and libraries, language play rooms allow you to play in the preferred language.

Warbot.io (Picture Source: Warbot.io) Warbot.io (opens on the new map), as well as other things, as well as a bit exaggerated. Delivers do not have a high -speed connection. Warbot is a dual -style shooter game, the mouse cursor controls your target while the WASD keys control your movement. Players pass through the battlefield, including other mechanisms, avoid enemy fire, collect power and look for leadership. Zombs.io (Picture Loan: Zombs.io) Zombs.io (opens on a new map), zombie brings the inevitable transformation of survival because players are slowly building their own bases, create defense points and wall choice and get resources to get resources.
