Now, the Amazon Prime Video app is getting a massive redesign on Google TV and other platforms. Rolling out starting today to Google TV/Android TV, as well as Fire TV, Roku, Apple TV, and consoles, Amazon Prime Video has picked up a complete revamp to its interface. And a long overdue one at that. The new Amazon Prime Video app now, somewhat unsurprisingly, looks a lot like the Netflix and Disney+ app. There's a navigation bar along the side of the UI, featured content at the top of the homepage, and a new top ten list as well. There are six sections to the app now listed along side of the UI including: Search Home Store Live TV Free My Stuff These sections break down to offer general recommendations, your wishlist, purchases, and free to watch content as well. Content included with Amazon Prime is marked with a blue checkmark, while individually purchased content has a golden shopping bag icon. Amazon says: We are introducing a redesigned, simplified main navigation menu that is easily accessible. This helps customers browse our broad selection—including movies, TV shows, sports, and premium channels—and find what they're looking for quickly and easily. Customers have an easy path to the titles included with Prime membership, such as The Marvelous Mrs. Maisel, The Boys, and the highly anticipated The Lord of the Rings: The Rings of Power. For our living room apps, the new navigation menu has been relocated to the side of the screen for improved access. The app will launch with six primary pages: Home, Store, Find, Live TV, Free with Ads, and My Stuff. Customers will also have sub-navigation options to more easily browse by content or offer type, e.g., "Movies" or "TV shows" or "Sports" on Home and "Channels" or "Rent or Buy" on Store. The new interface feels familiar with other major streaming services, and is really just a huge upgrade over the prior look, which felt dated and cluttered. Beyond just the TV, Amazon is also bringing this new Prime Video interface to Android phones and tablets during this initial rollout. The web interface, as well as iOS devices, will get the revamp "in the coming months." More on Google TV: FTC: We use income earning auto affiliate links. More. Aug 15, 2022 Version 9.16 Bug fixes and performance improvements. Convinced you've run out of things to watch? Amazon Prime Video may be able to prove otherwise. The app is brimming with brilliant films, dramas, and comedies, as well as sports and children's TV, all available to watch on demand. We love the ultra-high-quality 4K streaming and the slick UI. Oh, and the ability to create multiple user profiles and download series to watch later. There are also hundreds of Amazon Originals to check out—great series and films produced by Amazon Studios that you won't find anywhere else. I love the prime video app overall. For the most part it remembers where you left off on shows from device to device. I can save my favorites, and it recommends shows for me. The first flaw that bugs me, if I pause the movie with around 5 minutes left, and come back to it after the screen shuts off, it always skips to the next episode and cuts off my last few minutes. This happens on my Galaxy, Firestick and iPad, so I know it's not my device. Drives me crazy. Next flaw is I can't clear my watch history on just one show. I'm rewatching some shows and lose my place because it shows that I've seen all the episodes. I don't want to clear my entire watch history, then I'll lose my place in current shows. I wish this was a feature. If this feature exists, I haven't seen anywhere to click to make this happen. Other than these two complaints, I enjoy prime video very much! The ads actually make me want to watch less - not more. If I want ads, I'll watch free Tubi TV. I can check out films from the library for free - without ads. Get rid of the bloody frigen ads for other shows, etc.. I want to watch what I choose! I do not need your recommendations. Most all of your recommendations have to do with war, hegemony, police mistreating people, stereotyping and automatic weapons being used against innocent citizens. Films about religion, which is "supposedly" about loving one's neighbour, being used to justify mayhem and murder. These are boring! These are reasons why these incidents are more and more frequent. This makes this app boring! When are you going to show some real films about how people in other countries are prevented from being independent as a result of united states' policies? How about a real movie about the families who had their children stolen during the 'Chump' residency and still have not had them returned? Show more films about people resolving issues, that are mutually beneficial to all parties involved. What about films that show people of various cultural groups forming life-long, generational friendships. This would make this a better app and make me want to use it more instead of considering cancelling the subscription.
